

ALX Oncology Announces Appointment of Sophia Randolph, M.D., Ph.D., to Board of Directors

March 15, 2021

BURLINGAME, Calif., March 15, 2021 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- ALX Oncology Holdings Inc., ("ALX Oncology") (Nasdaq: ALXO), a clinical-stage immuno-oncology company developing therapies that block the CD47 checkpoint pathway, today announced the appointment of Sophia Randolph, M.D., Ph.D., to its Board of Directors. Dr. Randolph brings over fifteen years of biopharmaceutical industry experience and serves as Chief Medical Officer of ALX Oncology and will continue in this role.

"Dr. Randolph brings significant pharmaceutical research and development expertise to ALX Oncology and has been a crucial member of our management team over the last five years," said Corey Goodman, Ph.D., Executive Chairman of ALX Oncology. "This appointment represents another strong addition to our Board of Directors and complements the expertise of the current board members, as well as adding a valuable new perspective, and positions us well for continued clinical development and growth."

"It is a privilege to be joining ALX Oncology's Board of Directors and contribute to corporate strategy as ALX prepares to initiate numerous clinical trials this year," said Sophia Randolph, M.D., Ph.D., Chief Medical Officer of ALX Oncology. "I look forward to working closely with the Board and continuing my role as Chief Medical Officer through what I believe will be a momentous time for the Company, while making a positive impact on people living with cancer."

Dr. Randolph has served as the Chief Medical Officer of ALX Oncology since June 2016. Prior to joining us, she was with Pfizer Oncology Early and Late Development Groups, where she served most recently as Executive Director, Oncology and was the global clinical franchise lead for Ibrance® (palbociclib) at Pfizer, where she oversaw the program from first-in-human trials to regulatory approval. Previously, Dr. Randolph was Director, Clinical Sciences, Oncology at Merck & Co., Inc. She holds an A.B. in Biochemistry from Harvard University and an M.D. and a Ph.D. in Cellular and Molecular Biology from the University of Michigan. Dr. Randolph completed her oncology fellowship training at Seattle Cancer Care Alliance/Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center.

About ALX Oncology

ALX Oncology is a publicly traded, clinical-stage immuno-oncology company focused on helping patients fight cancer by developing therapies that block the CD47 checkpoint pathway and bridge the innate and adaptive immune system. ALX Oncology's lead product candidate, ALX148, is a next generation CD47 blocking therapeutic that combines a high-affinity CD47 binding domain with an inactivated, proprietary Fc domain. ALX148 has demonstrated promising clinical responses across a range of hematologic and solid malignancies in combination with a number of leading anti-cancer agents. ALX Oncology intends to continue clinical development of ALX148 for the treatment of a range of solid tumor indications as well as MDS and AML.
